Mr Jami Morshed

Vice President, Global Higher Education at Unit4

Mr Jami Morshed is Vice President of Global Higher Education at Unit4. His mission is to help colleges and universities improve student success and institutional effectiveness. As head of the Unit4 Global Center of Excellence, Jami helps institutions prepare for the future through scalable and comprehensive software solutions that streamline and modernize core business processes while eliminating the burden of managing ever-changing technology.

Jami has a proven background of helping numerous Fortune 500 companies and leading higher- education institutions deliver game-changing organizational performance by leveraging innovative technology to improve core business processes. Before joining Unit4, he held strategic management positions at Information Builders, one of the world's largest independent business intelligence and data integration software vendors, where he had full P&L responsibilities and led the entire operations of various regions throughout North America.

Jami also managed key customer relationships while at TALX, an Equifax company and market leader in HR, tax and payroll-related services. He graduated magna cum laude from the University of Missouri with a Bachelor of Science degree in business administration and a Bachelor of Arts in international studies. His international business coursework included studies abroad at the La Universidad de Alicante, Spain
