- What do we believe will be the key priorities for sustainable practices / action in the hotel / hospitality industry as well as the food and agricultural industries on which these depend?
- Academia and industry constantly utilize the phrase 'green hotels'. Current literature has identified most studies do not incorporate a unified definition of what a green hotel / hospitality business constitutes. Given there is ambiguity on how to quantify and qualify a 'green hotel / hospitality business' from both academia and industry standards, how can industry and academia facilitate benchmarking toward a unified agreed upon definition of 'green hotels / hospitality business'?
- What changes are needed to support effective action and address challenges in these sectors, what does this mean for us as educators and what gives us hope about the future?
